Hi Everyone:

Thanks for your thoughtful participation today.

Attached is Tom's PowerPoint and here is the link to the climate science "modules" (papers) that he found very helpful: <https://www.eli.org/climate-judiciary-project> . Once on this website, just click on the link titled "Climate Science and Law for Judges Curriculum." Our thanks to Tom for providing us with some insight on the subject!

Great job on OneDrive and virtual desktop by David Fenster today! As I mentioned we will add a computer lab late in the afternoon one day for those who want that type of assistance at Judicial College. Thanks to Dave and to Jenn for agreeing to assist those of us who are OneDrive or otherwise challenged.

I think that covers everything from my notes.

Thanks again for your participation today. It was great to see everyone! I was thinking about our discussions and was reminded of one of insights from our meeting at Lake Morey last October. You're only ever really as good as those around you – we are fortunate to have such great colleagues.

Have a great weekend. Thanks again for participating today, for all you do for our citizens, and [REDACTED]
