Dear Naomi:

It is a pleasure to meet you virtually.

I would be happy to talk with you. Next week is quite busy because of a 3-day virtual National Academy meeting. Would 2 pm Pacific on the 5th work for you to talk?

Best wishes,

Kris

Dear Dr. Ebi,

My name is Naomi Spoelman, I am a legal fellow at the Center for Climate Integrity (CCI) and a good friend of your colleague, Morgan Gorris. We ran into each other briefly on the street when you were in DC working on the National Climate Assessment, but did not get a chance to formally meet. Our work intersects in an interesting way and I would love the opportunity to discuss.

CCI is a non-profit that provides support to those seeking to hold fossil fuel companies accountable for the harms they have caused through their historic and ongoing climate deception. We have been looking into the health impacts of climate-induced extreme heat, specifically the 2021 heat dome, on folks in Seattle/King County and elsewhere in the state.

Might you have some time in the next week or so to speak with me and my colleague Alyssa Johl about our work? Alyssa and I are both in DC. Please feel free to propose some times that work for you.

Sincerely,
Naomi
