Jay and Sarah,

The conference organizers would like to know if you'd be okay with the presentation being recorded. I had told them that we didn't want it recorded, but they are following up because the sessions are usually (but not always) recorded. They've proposed recording the presentation, but not the Q and A, so people can speak more freely (which is one of the things we wanted to make sure the attendees could do).

Thoughts? Erica has said she's fine with recording. (See below.)

I apologize if you've already answered this question and I missed your answer. ●
