Dear Judge Jackson,

I hope this message finds you well as the holiday season is upon us. Thank you again for your participation in our Judicial Leaders in Climate Science program in Woods Hole, last September. We were very pleased with the momentum built at the event and since then have been thrilled to hear from many of your colleagues the plans they are developing for educational events with their judiciaries. Some have filled out the action planning template that Kelly Tait and Yvonne Stedham presented at the workshop, and others have sent narratives about their progress.

We're planning to send out a document with a description of everyone's action plans in January, and we want to make sure your update is included. At Woods Hole, you mentioned that you were interested in attending the administrative judges' meeting this winter - has that generated any leads or ideas?

Here are some examples that your colleagues have shared with us:

- Judge Toro and Judge Huergo are working together to organize an in-person judicial session on climate science in June;
- Judge Montalbano has proposed 3 sessions for the Sept. judicial conference in a letter to his Chief Justice; and
- Judge Knight is working with us to develop a 2-part series on climate science, impacts, and litigation trends in Maryland (Spring webinar, followed by a daylong session in September).

I also wanted to follow up on the listserv invite – unfortunately we cannot add you manually. You need to accept via the invitation we can send. Should we send another invite? (Apologies if we missed something on this earlier.) There have been a few nice exchanges there and it would be good to have you in that loop!

In the meantime, please let us know if we can help you in your planning or provide any ideas or resources to support your efforts to engage your Arkansas colleagues on climate science and related legal issues as relevant to Arkansas issues.

We wish you the best for the holiday season!

Best,
Sarah
