Subject: JLCS Zoom Call - March 6, 2024

Hello Soon-to-Be Judicial Leaders in Climate Science!

We look forward to "seeing" you soon, first for tomorrow's Zoom meeting and then next Monday morning in Reno. I write today to confirm the timing and logistics for tomorrow's Zoom call. We will convene tomorrow, March 6 at noon PST/3 PM EST/4 PM Atlantic Standard Time (Puerto Rico). Your Zoom link appears in the calendar item I sent you last week and is here as well:

Tomorrow's call agenda includes:

- Introductions of Faculty, Program
- Discussion of the Two Topics - Judicial Leadership and Climate Science
- Climate Science Teaser
- Updates on Logistics for Reno

Reno Schedule. In preparation for tomorrow's call, you may wish to review the capsulized schedule attached to this email and consider questions you may have for us on Reno logistics.

Call Recording. Several of you are trying to finish up trials/hearings before you come to Reno and have told me that you may miss the call. So, we have decided to record this informational call. Generally, we don't record our calls, to ensure your judicial confidentiality. This one offers more information from us on preparing for Reno, so we will make the recording available later in the afternoon. I suggest that, if at all possible, you show up for a brief time right at the beginning, so you all see each other once before you arrive in Reno.

Reno Course Dinner. Don't forget that we will gather for dinner next Tuesday night at 6 pm at Louis' Basque Corner, three blocks from your hotel (Silver Legacy). If you have a significant other, you may bring them, but there is a $65 charge for them.

Photo Book. In order for you to start getting to know your colleagues in your cohort, I have prepared a photobook with basic information about each of the participants. As we proceed, we can develop this book further as you would like to have it, with more on biographies and/or contact information. (Yes, we can use different photos than the ones we found online.)

If you have any questions, please contact me via email or phone. My cell number appears below in case you have something happen.

Be well,

Alf
