DON'T FORGET TO JOIN US THIS AFTERNOON AT 1:15 PM PDT/4:15 PM EDT.

Dear JLCS Participants,

In order to accommodate the schedules of our speakers for our upcoming webinar on climate science program action planning, we have moved the webinar's time, to start at 1:15 PM Pacific Time (4:15 EDT) on July 24. It will last until 2:30 PM PDT/5:30 PM EDT, to allow for full discussion. You will find the Zoom link below.

This webinar will offer the opportunity for both JLCS cohorts to engage each other on how best to organize a program on climate science for your judicial colleagues. After a welcome and an overview, we will hear from three 2022 Cohort judges on how they organized a program and the challenges they encountered:

- * Justice Rebecca Duncan, Oregon Supreme Court
- * Judge Lissette Tore Vélez, Puerto Rico Superior Court, Ponce Region
- * Judge Stephen Scheele, Lake County (IN) Superior Court

We will encourage members of both cohorts to engage the speakers and each other in how best to take action to develop a climate science program.

We look forward to seeing you all next month.

Alf
