Folks, here are two options for two separate topics that I am proposing.

The first Option, is for a plenary or breakout session for "Climate Change: A Challenge for the Judiciary". (The template lists the title as "Climate Change: THE FUTURE IS NOW". This was a previous presentation done at UNM - I could not figure out how to edit the change on the PDF). As the designated judge that completed the Judicial Leaders in Climate Science program through the Environmental Law Institute, I have a mandate to educate and inform the judiciary in my respective state. Hopefully, this will be an opportunity to accomplish part of that mandate.

The second Option is a possible breakout for only the Water Law Judges and any other interested judges/staff, titled "Water Law 101: a refresher". I have sent out the law review article I wrote to all Water Judges, but I don't think we have had a refresher on the basics since 2018.

Please let me know if you have any questions. Chief Judge Mannie Arrieta, Third Judicial District Court, Las Cruces.

At the December 16th NMJC meeting, Justice Thomson presented the attached form and requested feedback for the 2023 Judicial Conclave. Please review and submit any suggested topics to me at your earliest convenience.

Thank you - Ann
