Dear Judge Sudderth,

Thank you for the update. It sounds like you've made good progress! We would be glad to provide materials to support subsequent conversations, or help you think through program ideas if the CLE course moves forward. Please do keep us posted as things progress.

Best regards,

Sarah

I have completed my part in this, except for a follow-up in January or February.

Following the direction I received from Chief Justice Hecht (who designated me to attend the program), I have reached out to both the Texas Office of Court Administration and the Texas Center for the Judiciary, introduced the subject matter to them and offered my assistance in setting up a climate change CLE session at one of the CLE opportunities in 2023. As I understand it, the Education/Curriculum committee will meet in January or February and they will let me know if it will be offered. Chief Justice Hecht wants me to go through these channels and not initiate independently of them.

Let me know if you have any other questions or suggestions. Thanks!

Dear Judge Sudderth,

I hope this message finds you well. I'm writing to check in about the status of your action plan. We would be happy to help you think through and prepare your action plan if that would be useful. Let us know how we can support you!

I also wanted to mention that if you would prefer that we communicate through your assistant, we'd be glad to do so, just let us know.

Have a great holiday week!

Sarah
