Dear Mr. Pendergrass,

We have recently convened to review the draft Preliminary Programme for the 2nd World Environmental Law Congress. We were wondering if you might be interested in being a Keynote Speaker during the Environmental Rule of Law Stream on Friday, March 27?

As we are asking each participant to speak only once, this would be in the place of your paper presentation "Environmental Liability: An Underused Tool for Restoration and Prevention". Of course we could still publish your paper as a part of the Congress Proceedings.

I have attached a revised draft Preliminary Programme to this email.

Please let me know if you have any questions or concerns.

Kind regards,

Dear Mr. Pendergrass,

We are pleased to inform you that your abstract "Environmental Liability: An Underused Tool for Restoration and Prevention" has been accepted for the 2nd World Environmental Law Congress "Environmental Law 2030 and Beyond", following review by an expert panel.

The two days of paper presentations at the 2nd World Environmental Law Congress will be held at the Supreme Court of the State of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil on Thursday, 26 March and Friday, 27 March 2020. This high-level event will assess the role of environmental law in light of the critical ecological crises that we all face.

The next step is for you to prepare a short article based on your abstract, which is required prior to your participation in the Congress (see the guidelines below). The deadline for submitting a draft article is 31 January 2020. These short articles will inform the conference organizers and will be shared with Congress participants. The articles will also be used to facilitate the collaboration between the panelists and co-chairs, and allow for feedback in the authors' revisions of the final papers.

Final articles are due shortly after the Congress, no later than 15 April 2020. WCEL plans to publish the proceedings and papers online. Please refer to the guidelines at the end of this letter for additional information about the paper requirements.

As a selected author, you will be given priority registration and your Congress registration fees is waived. Panelists are responsible for air fare, lodging, and other participation expenses.

In the coming weeks, we will be providing additional information regarding hotel and transportation options. We recommend that you confirm visa entry requirements with your embassy as soon as possible. You may also be required to provide a health certificate or proof of a yellow fever vaccination for entry to Brazil.

Because of our highly competitive applicant pool, we were unable to accept many strong abstracts for the Congress. Accordingly, we ask that you please confirm your commitment to submitting the short paper and final paper by the deadlines indicated and your Congress participation by 6 December 2019. Please kindly email your reply to: [REDACTED]

As Co-Chairs of the 2nd World Environmental Law Congress, we thank you for your submission and look forward to your participation in this important global event.

Best Regards,
