Thank you Scott!
Got it re Dmitri.
Yes, I hope so on the Chiefs working on it.
Thanks for all your contributions - it means a lot - and we could not do this without you and ELI.
Happy New Year!
Denise

Thanks for this Denise. All good to know. I think a verbal acknowledgment of Dimitri and Client Earth would be fine. That's consistent with my thought of keeping it a bit under the radar. Fingers crossed that we get a better turnout from the the CJs. Many thanks for all your efforts, and Happy New Year to you (and Claudia)! Scott

Aloha Scott,

Thanks for the note and question. Well received.

Appreciate that Loretta can jump on this Monday!

Yes, we are working on (and close to confirming) several other sources of support - some $ and many in-kind:

1. David Levin Livingston law firm - this is the Hawaii firm that supported the DC Symposium, I'll be following up with them tomorrow once I have the Programme revised (today). I asked them to match your contribution. If we get it, or even half, that will put us in good shape. Right now, we are not paying any air fare for anyone to stay within budget.
2. UH - Chip Fletcher is working hard to get Sir David King's trip paid for either 1st Class or Business class (which we cannot do, of course) - and honorarium for side lectures/meetings. He has leads/conversations going with his Dean, Sea Grant, and UH Foundation. Chip has some very good leads and we've been working it for the past week but folks are out on vacation, so it's not confirmed. If this works, we may not have to pay for Sir David at all, or only minimal lodging (the max we are providing others - though he is likely to stay somewhere else, it seems).
3. Supreme Court is providing free venue for Friday - and of course Mike's Judicial Assistant (Dawn Nekoba) and CJ's Special Assistant (DaylinRose Heather) have been critically helpful.
4. Law School is providing free venue for Saturday - plus Law School is providing my time, my staff support ([REDACTED] my research assistant), and will help with all logistics.
5. Social - Mike is contributing his beachhouse (party on Sunday)
6. [REDACTED] hosting an evening party at her beautiful condo overlooking Waikiki beach (this will likely be Friday night - instead of the boat ride). This saves us a ton - we have done several VIP events here - just have to pay food and valet. It's a spectacular view for sunset, regatta, fireworks.
7. We are not (yet) paying any air fares ... that's a huge savings to us. WCEL is paying for Antonio and Emmanuel. The others are self-paid or funded by others.

8. And Claudia's time helping with essentials and co-organizing! :-)

So, as usual "always in partnership" - and even though these are in-kind, it is very real (and big) savings given how much it would cost if we paid for all this kind of support.

Re ClientEarth, they are not sponsoring the Chinese delegation - Dmitri has been vital to securing the participation of the Chinese judges. At this point, ClientEarth is not listed in the Programme anywhere, but we will acknowledge his help verbally. Is that OK? I wasn't aware of the sensitivities, sorry, please do fill me in when appropriate.

The participation is really great now re speakers - except for the Chief Justices side of the ledger - we have only Paul Reiber for now, maybe Hecht stopping by on Sat (not yet confirmed), and Mike's job is to keep recruiting the CCJs we have targeted with targeted letters and phone calls.

I think we can ask our CJ to send out the revised Programme next week as well, but it's going to be "thin" on the CCJ side, though we still have some time....

Many thanks Scott!

Best,

Denise

Hi Denise — Loretta will be getting back to you to get the payment made. A couple of points of interest for me. Are any of the other sponsors contributing to the event financially? I may get asked by my board, so it would be good to know. We will make good on our commitment in any case. Also, I see Dimitri DeBoer on the list. Will Client Earth be shown as a sponsor? I'm kind of hoping not, given their advocacy profile. There may be some issues for us if we are seen as financing an event that serves as a platform for Client Earth. Can you verify? Thanks, Scott

Hi Loretta,

Thank you for all of your help with our upcoming Second Global Symposium in Hawaii and the hotel contract/payment!

Hotel

After pulling together all of the loose ends, and being very mindful of your guidance not to book if we don't yet have confirmations, I can confirm that we have trimmed down the initial "confirmed" bookings to 6 rooms for 4 nights.

See below the message I sent today to Holiday Inn's Kathy AhSam. She will be emailing you a contract that must be paid this Monday December 30.

I also believe we will then have 5 more rooms for ELI to pay next week (or so) at the same offered rate.

I'll keep you posted as those are confirmed.

Budget

The total anticipated budget for hotels to be paid by ELI currently stands at $9030 ($5160 under the Contract + $3870 for the future bookings).

We therefore have $15,000 "left" in the ELI budget - which we will need for food for the two days and if we pay for lodging for the Chief Justices to come extra two nights in advance.

See chart below.

Other Costs

Either [REDACTED] or I will also update you on food vendors. Do you have a preferred way of handling the food or other misc (materials) charges?

Thank you again very much to you - and Scott - for all your support!

If you have any questions about signing the Contract on Monday Dec 30, please call my cell (808) [REDACTED]

Time difference from DC to Hawaii is -5 hours.

Happy continuing Holidays!

Best,

Denise

Aloha Kathy, and Stephanie,

Very nice to speak with you today Kathy!

[REDACTED] and I greatly appreciate your patience and flexibility on the room bookings.

I have attached the signed and modified Letter of Agreement to confirm the 6 rooms for the 4 nights indicated.

At your earliest convenience, please send the Contract (6 rooms, 4 nights) to:

Environmental Law Institute
Attention: Loretta Reinersmann

[REDACTED]

Please cc me and [REDACTED] - thank you.

I will confirm separately with Loretta that we need the Contract to be signed and the 6 rooms paid by ELI on Monday December 30.

ELI is in Washington, D.C. EYT

ELI is in Washington, D.C., FRI.

In addition, as I mentioned, we greatly appreciate your offering us the same room rate for later individual booking for our Symposium attendees in the next week or so.

We currently have 5 people who we hope will confirm and be paid for by ELI/Loretta next week, and then another 5 to confirm and be paid for by others next week. So, 10 more rooms, we hope.

I hope the rest of your holiday season is fun and restful.

I included my cell phone in case you have Qs, don't hesitate to call me, anytime.

Aloha [REDACTED]

Hope you are enjoying the "Holiday Season"!

Please see the attached revised contract; Bed Type and Authorized Signature.

Regarding the taxes, Hawaii is not a tax exempt state. The taxes are applicable to the room charge.

Explaining the taxes can be very complex so I have attached a link with information on the tax laws in Hawaii.

We look forward to receiving the signed contract no later than December 26th.

Wishing you a very Merry Christmas and Happy New Year!

MAHALO!
