Hi Sandy,

I do know her, but not well.

Why would she NOT be honored to receive your award?

Subject: help an award recipient

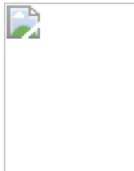

Dear Ed,

Thank you again so much for joining our Climate Science Leaders program in February at GWU. Your presentation brought so much to the conversation -- and since that event, several of the participants have gone on to engage with judges through our Climate Judiciary Project. We're very pleased with the results of that event the momentum it built!

In the meantime, we are working on identifying a recipient for ELI's Environmental Achievement award for this year and have identified Elizabeth Kolbert as a possible awardee. Before trying to reach out to her directly, we are trying to identify friends who might know her and might be able to help us identify whether this might be something she would consider. Given how active you are in the journalist community, I thought you might know her. If so, would have time for a quick chat so that I can tell you more about our award and get your thoughts on this idea?

Thanks in advance!
Sandy
