Hi Zipporah,

I hope this finds you well!

As we look forward to the full-day program in September, I wanted to touch base with a question. We would like to invite one someone from Mathematica, a firm that we are working with to help us evaluate our Climate Judiciary Project. Sometimes they ask the participants questions about the program. Do you foresee any problems with inviting someone from Mathematica to attend in September, and them potentially asking some questions related to evaluation?

Thanks again for all your help in making this program a success!

All the best,

Jarryd
